

BIG BIRTHDAY BANG FOR 100 YEAR OLD SCHOOL!

By Sydney Carpenter!

The other day, Halsall St. Cuthbert's School celebrated the School's 100th birthday. They had a big street party with all the children on the playground. It was a fun day and everyone got cakes and an ice – cream.

The school today has an assembly hall, many more teachers and a Class L. They do so many lessons like art, R.E and P.E. They have built an activity trail as well. This is what the head teacher, Mr. Scholes, said about the party. "It was amazing, I can't believe the School's 100 years old."

The first School was built in 1593 near the church. The second school was built in 1861 next to the graveyard. The current school was built in 1904. In the past it was much smaller, with no class L and there wasn't an activity trail, but it was still a happy place.

The school street party was a success. The building may have changed, but one thing has stayed the same - Halsall St Cuthbert's School delivers a brilliant education!
