

Biography of Eileen Collins

Eileen Collins was the first woman to pilot a space shuttle. She was born on 19 November 1956 her school was corning community. Her family is Brigit Youngs Luke Youngs, James.E Collins, Rose Marry Collins and pat Youngs she graduated with class 84b.

Eileen Collins trained with NASA and she has always wanted to be a pilot. She went to a pilot training course and then became an instructor.

In her early career she was a space pilot. She was on the space shuttle Columbia July 23 1999 and she became NASA first shuttle commander.

In 2005 Collins retired from the air course and from NASA. She has revived lots of rewards. She has been included in a list of 300 women who changed the world. She is 63 this year and happily retired.