

Biography of Eileen Collins

Eileen Collins was the first lady to pilot a space shuttle. Her date of birth is 19th of November 1956. Her family is Marie Youngs (her mum) and Luke Young (her son) Eileen went to a college called Corning Community.

Eileen Collins trained with NASA. She got influenced because when she was a little girl she always wanted to pilot a space shuttle.

Her main achievement was piloting a space shuttle. Eileen made lots of money out of this and she became very popular. Eileen's friends and family were all very proud and happy for her.

Later on in her life, Eileen retired from NASA and air crafts. She has won lots of awards and she has been included in a list of women who changed the world. This November, Eileen will be 63.